BE LIKE PABLO

Be Like Pablo describe themselves as the Beach Boys with Scottish accents, Moog synths and noisy guitars. Their base however is a far cry from sunny California; the band hails from Forres on Scotland's blustery Moray coast. Nevertheless their music is warm, catchy, guitar-based pop. BBC Introducing, BBC Radio 2 and Radio Scotland have all backed the band, and their new single, There She Is.

NO VACATION

Five-piece band No Vacation make surf-tinged dream-like pop; think Suzanne Vega at the beach. They formed at college in San Francisco in 2015 and have since graduated from messing about in their garages to recording in the studio. No Vacation has a new single, Mind Fields, out in June. In the meantime listen to their hypnotic tune, August.

THE KING'S PARADE

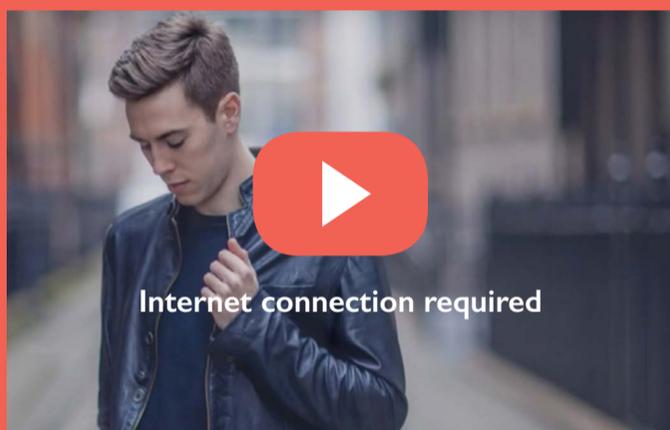

The boys from The King's Parade have a strong following in their hometown London, thanks to a series of sell-out gigs and a residency at the legendary Ronnie Scott's. Listen to the quartet's single Gathering The Pieces of a Broken Heart, and you will hear a mix of classic blues and carefully crafted pop. The band's latest single, Haze, was released earlier this month.

JACK WOODWARD

Singer songwriter Jack Woodward is steadily making a name for himself with his intimate indie pop songs. The 23-year-old from England's North East has enjoyed support from BBC Introducing and Best of British Unsigned. Woodward's latest single, Let It Happen, was released in March. Hot on the heels of opening for Rae Morris, he will perform on the Live at Leeds acoustic stage in April.

FALL FROM PERFECTION

Metal bands led by women are few and far between; but this hasn't stopped the Reading foursome Fall from Perfection attempting to go forth and conquer. The band is led by Welsh wild girl Mary Day, who ditched her violin to join a metal band after hearing Whitesnake and Rage Against the Machine. Fall from Perfection recently released their debut album Metamorph.
